YOUR AFTERCARE GUIDE

Chin filler

REGISTERED NURSE • WOODFORD, ESSEX

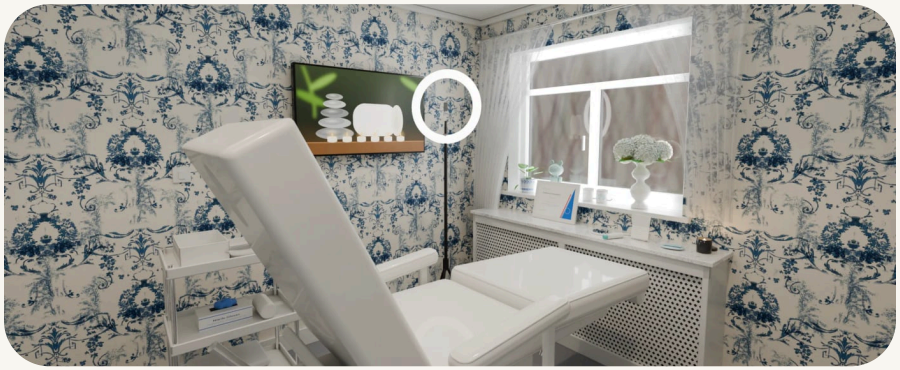

A NOTE FROM GWEN

Looking after your result.

Thank you for coming to see me. Chin filler shows straight away, but mild swelling can make the result look a little fuller for the first few days. Give it two weeks to settle before you judge it.

This guide takes you through those two weeks. The warning signs I always want to hear about straight away are on page five.

DOWNTIME Possible swelling for a few days	REVIEW Two weeks, once swelling has settled

STEP BY STEP

What to do, and when.

01

TODAY

Cool and calm

- Ease swelling with a cool pack wrapped in a clean cloth, ten minutes at a time.
- Leave makeup off for the rest of the day.
- Hands off: no pressing, rubbing or massaging.

02

FIRST 48 HOURS

Take it easy

- No strenuous exercise, and avoid alcohol.
- Avoid heat: hot baths, saunas, steam rooms and sunbeds.
- Sleep on your back, head raised on an extra pillow.
- Don't rest your chin on your hand, and avoid chin straps and tight helmets.

03

FIRST 2 WEEKS

Let it settle

- No facials, facial massage, peels, microneedling or laser.
- No dental appointments unless they are urgent.
- The filler can feel firm at first. It softens as it settles into the tissue.

WHAT TO EXPECT

Completely normal.

You may notice some of these. They are expected, and they settle by themselves.

- Mild swelling for a few days.
- Tenderness when you talk, chew or press the area.
- Bruising, which can take a week or so to fade.
- A firm feeling under the skin.

HELPING YOUR RESULT

- ✓ Paracetamol is fine if you need it and can normally take it. Avoid aspirin and ibuprofen for 48 hours unless they are prescribed for you.
- ✓ Drink plenty of water.
- ✓ Wear SPF every day.
- ✓ Results last around twelve to eighteen months.

PEACE OF MIND

When to get in touch.

Send me a message if you notice

- Lumps or unevenness that are still there after two weeks.
- Redness, warmth, swelling or tenderness that increases after day three, or any discharge.
- New swelling or lumps appearing weeks or months later.

- Pain that is severe, or getting worse instead of easing.
- Skin on or near the treated area turning white, grey, dusky or blotchy in a lacy pattern.
- Skin that feels cold, or small blisters or spots appearing over a discoloured patch.

These can mean the blood supply to the skin is affected: rare, but it needs prompt treatment. If you can't reach Gwen, call NHS 111 or go to A&E and say you have had hyaluronic acid dermal filler in your chin.
